

Remember the Triangle fire on its centennial and draw attention to recent factory fires in Bangladesh sweatshops with a commemorative t-shirt!

The black, unisex shirts are sewn by SITRALPO-unionized workers at Alta Gracia in the Dominican Republic, a factory where they earn a living wage as verified by the Worker Rights Consortium. The purple, ladies-cut shirts are made by workers at Rubin Brothers / Union Line in Chicago, represented by the UFCW union.

$20 for one shirt (including shipping), $15 for each additional shirt, with no additional shipping cost.

Black (unisex) is available in S, M, L, XL. Purple (ladies) is available in L, XL. (Other purple sizes are possible with 4-week, rather than 2-week, turnaround time. Contact us for bulk order info.)
